Positively no substitutions or combinations please Each set course menu is all or nothing
Republican (or foreign equivalent) menu		Democratic (or foreign equivalent) menu
1	Trump was (and still is) the greatest president ever	Trump is a horrific human being
2	Obama is a horrific human being	Obama was the greatest president ever
3	Abortion is the murdering of unborn babies, which must be banned and criminalized as murder	Abortion is the exclusive choice of women, in which no babies are murdered, since they are still unborn
4	Man-made Global Warming is a farce. Proponents must be excommunicated, if not crucified.	Man-made Global Warming is real and terrifying and will incinerate the planet. Deniers must be excommunicated, if not crucified.

5	The Universe and all species were created some time ago by a supernatural being in the appearance of a dressed man, for the exclusive enjoyment of mankind only, and rednecks are free to deface the wilderness for their own personal amusement	Irrespective of how they were created, the Universe and all species must be preserved to the utmost degree for tree huggers to enjoy

Common course

6	Only the ideas and opinions that most attract me instinctively and from gut feeling are truthful and legitimate. Anyone who has the nerve to oppose me is a dangerous fool who must be incapacitated
7	Although I hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men who share my opinions are created equal and that all other men must be silenced and stripped of their rights, I don't know how to practically enforce a gag order over half the population minus one when I am in the majority, nor avoid it when I'm in the minority, especially when the minority is paradoxically more numerous than the majority
8	My opinions are always the only correct ones, even if I know and understand close to nothing about the subject matters I vigorously argue
9	Extreme bad faith is not only acceptable but also highly recommended in political rhetoric
10	Everybody must pay tax, except me

11	My country has the exclusive right to the ' America ' moniker, despite America being a large continent which the United States shares with 38 other sovereign nations
12	Kings are synonymous with dictatorship, although most of the world's true democracies, plus a dozen sovereign foreign nations in the American continent, are monarchies and all dictatorships are republics
13	Despite the U.S. being by far the wealthiest and strongest country in the world, the whole world is abusing and taking advantage of me, especially the poor, in the same fashion that the maid is stealing from the baroness
14	It is only normal and natural that all foreigners be required to obtain a visa before they can enter the United States but United States citizens should have the absolute right to travel wherever they fancy without the inconvenience of a visa requirement
15	All the news outlets except those I exclusively read or watch are fake, dishonest, and prejudiced against me
16	My President is the Leader of the Free World, despite no one in the Free World outside the U.S. having ever elected him to office
17	Since there is no legal duty to rescue in this country, anyone who is not cowardly or selfish enough to run away from a rescue is hailed as a hero. In other climes, anyone who runs away from a rescue is thrown to jail
18	Everybody should get an education before being authorized to utter an opinion, except me, since, like Adam, my knowledge is innate and science was in me infused

19	Although I secretly know I'm a dunce, I'm very touchy about the issue and I will prosecute you to the fullest extent of the law if you tell anyone
Again, positively no substitutions or combinations. Each set course menu is all or nothing. NO ALTERNATE CHOICE
