

Quadrants

(November 2024)

As of November 2024, in the Australian State of Victoria, a person convicted of having rotated his or her right arm to one of the 8 positions below faces a potential maximum sentence of 12 months in prison plus a fine of 24,000 Australian dollars ($16,025).

Please select the incriminating position and attempt to reconcile the penalty with simple considerations of Freedom of Rotation <sup>1</sup>,

<sup>1</sup> Irrespective of your personal ideas regarding the opprobrious Teutonic Dritte Reich of lore.