

On my left: Muhammad Ali, representing the P.R.o.China, 107 kg on the scales, big gloves, 1,400 g brain.

On my right: Cassius Clay, representing the R.o.China, 1 kg on the scales, small gloves, 1,400 g brain.

But, oh! Someone gave Cassius and Muhammad the same glove size!

I'm told Cassius' brain has disappeared behind the gloves!

Perhaps should we let them use their brains rather than their fists?

That would level the field!

And perhaps should Homo Occidentalis (et Corpus Occupatus) consider using his own brains rather than the fists of other people?
